Pursuant to a petition filed May 13, 2013, under Wis. Admin. The issue for determination is whether the respondent committed an Intentional Program Violation(IPV).

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. The petitioner (CARES # [REDACTED]) is a resident of Eau Claire County who received FoodShare in Eau Claire County April through November 2012.

2. The county agency notified the petitioner by certified mail that it would seek to disqualify her from the FoodShare program for one year because she intentionally violated the program's rules by reporting that her employment ended when it had not.
3. The petitioner did not appear at the hearing.

DISCUSSION

An intentional policy violation of the FoodShare program occurs when a recipient intentionally does any of the following:

1. makes a false or misleading statement, or misrepresents, conceals or withholds facts; or
2. commits any act that constitutes a violation of the Food Stamp Act, the Food Stamp Program Regulations, or any Wisconsin statute for the purpose of using, presenting, transferring, acquiring, receiving, possessing or trafficking of FoodShare benefits or QUEST cards.

FoodShare Wisconsin Handbook, § 3.14.1; see also 7 C.F.R. § 273.16(c) and Wis. Stat. §§ 49.795(2-7).

An intentional policy violation can be proved by a court order, a diversion agreement entered into with the local district attorney, a waiver of a right to a hearing, or an administrative disqualification hearing, FoodShare Wisconsin Handbook, § 3.14.1. The county agency can disqualify only the individual found to have committed the intentional violation; it cannot disqualify the entire household. Those disqualified are ineligible to participate in the FoodShare program for one year for the first violation, two years for the second violation, and permanently for the third violation. Although other family members cannot be disqualified, their monthly allotments will be reduced unless they agree to make restitution within 30 days of when the agency mails a written demand letter. 7 C.F.R. § 273.16(b). The county agency has the burden of proving by clear and convincing evidence both that the recipient committed the violation and that she did so intentionally. 7 C.F.R. § 273.16(e)(6).

The county agency alleges that the petitioner falsely reported in April 2012 that she no longer was working when in fact she continued working at the same job throughout the entire year. This led to her receiving $3,394 more in FoodShare than she was entitled to from April through October 2012. The petitioner did not appear and challenge these allegations, which the agency documented thoroughly at the hearing. Based upon this, I find that it has established by clear and convincing evidence that she committed an intentional program violation of the FoodShare program. Because this is her violation, she is ineligible for benefits for one year.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The county agency can disqualify the petitioner from the FoodShare program for one year because it has established by clear and convincing evidence that she intentionally violated the rules of that program.

THEREFORE, it is

That the county agency may make a finding that the petitioner committed a first IPV of the FoodShare program and disqualify her from the program for one year.
