FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Petitioner (CARES # [REDACTED]) is a resident of Milwaukee County.
2. Petitioner was sent a notice dated October 7, 2013 that informed her that her FoodShare benefit would be reduced effective November 1, 2013 from $308.00 a month to $56.00 per month.
3. Petitioner receives $826.00 per month in adoption assistance benefits. She reported new employment on September 20, 2013. Her prospective income was verified and the new employment was expected to be 24.5 hours per week at $9.00 per hour or $948.15 per month (24.5 x $9 x 4.3 weeks per month). Thus total gross household income was determined to be $1774.15.

4. Petitioner's household size is 2.
5. In determining Petitioner's FoodShare allotment the agency credited Petitioner with the following deductions: a standard deduction of $152, a 20% earned income deduction, a shelter deduction of $462.64 based upon costs of approximately $725.00 and the utility allowance of $450.00.

DISCUSSION

To receive FoodShare benefits a household must have income below gross and net income limits though the gross income test does not apply where a household has an elderly blind or disabled member. 7 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), §273.9(b); FoodShare Wisconsin Handbook (FSH), § 1.1.4. The agency must budget all income of the FS household, including all earned and unearned income. 7 CFR § 273.9(b); FoodShare Wisconsin Handbook (FSH), § 4.3.1. Adoption Assistance is counted as household income. FSH, §4.3.4.2 at # 17. The allotment calculation is based on prospectively budgeted monthly income using estimated amounts. FSH, §4.1.1. For earned income that is received biweekly, the agency is directed to develop a biweekly average, and then multiply that figure by 2.15 to account for three-paycheck months. For weekly income, the multiplier is 4.3. 7 CFR §273.10(c)(2).

Once a household passes the gross income test the following deductions are applied (FSH, at § 4.6):

- (1) a standard deduction - which currently is $152 per month for a household of 1-3 persons, 7 CFR § 273.9(d)(1);
- (2) an earned income deduction - which equals 20% of the household's total earned income, 7 CFR § 273.9(d)(2);
- (3) certain medical expenses – for medical expenses exceeding $35 in a month for an elderly or disabled person, 7 CFR § 273.9(d)(3);
- (4) dependent care deduction for child care expenses, 7 CFR § 273.9(d)(4); and
- (5) shelter and utility expenses deduction – the utility allowance is a standard and is $450.00 per month and the deduction is equal to the excess expense above 50% of net income remaining after other deductions. 7 CFR § 273.9(d)(5). There is a cap of $478.00 on the shelter cost deduction unless a household has an elderly [60 or older], blind or disabled member. FSH, §§ 4.6.7.1 and 8.1.3.

Petitioner contends that she did not get scheduled to work as many hours as promised and, therefore, her income not as much as expected and projected by the agency. She submitted paystubs to demonstrate income. Ex # 10. Those stubs indicate that Petitioner actually started employment in mid-August and her hours were initially less than 24.5 per week. Nonetheless, by the pay period ending September 28 her hours and pay were as projected. I have reviewed the agency calculations here, see Exhibit # 9 and do not find any errors.

Petitioner might keep in mind that changes reported in one month will affect the next month's benefits if the change affects benefits. FSH, §6.1.3.3.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

That the available evidence is sufficient to demonstrate that it correctly determined Petitioner's FoodShare allotment for November 2013.

THEREFORE, it is

ORDERED

That this appeal is dismissed.
