FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Petitioner (CARES # [REDACTED]) is a resident of NA.
2. On April 2, 2013, the agency sent the Petitioner a Notification of FoodShare Overissuance and an overpayment worksheet, Claim Number [REDACTED] indicating her household was overissued FoodShare benefits in the amount of $3,965.00 for the period of June 19, 2012 to November 30, 2012. (Exhibit 2-3)

3. The agency sent Petitioner a repayment agreement on May 2, 2013. (Exhibit 2-4)
 4. The agency sent the Petitioner dunning notices (reminders about the debt) on June 4, 2013, July 2, 2013 and August 2, 2013. (Exhibits 2-5, 2-6, and 2-7)
 5. On February 14, 2014, the agency sent the Petitioner a notice of State tax intercept, advising him that, “Any Wisconsin State Income Tax Refund, Wisconsin State tax credit or Wisconsin lottery winnings due you in the future will be applied to this debt.” (Exhibit 2)
 6. The Petitioner filed a request for fair hearing that was received by the Division of Hearings and Appeals on March 2, 2015. (Exhibit 1)

DISCUSSION

The federal regulation concerning FoodShare overpayments requires the State agency to take action to establish a claim against any household that received an overissuance of FoodShare due to an intentional program violation, an inadvertent household error (also known as a “client error”), or an agency error (also known as a “non-client error”). 7 C.F.R. § 273.18(b); see also FoodShare Wisconsin Handbook (FSH), App. §7.3.2.1. As such, it does not matter whose error caused the overpayment; it must be recouped.

The Petitioner filed an appeal because she does not think he should be held liable for the overpayment underlying the tax intercept, because the error was not hers. The respondent concedes the agency error, but correctly notes that recoupment is required regardless of who was at fault.

Specific to the instant matter, the Federal FoodShare regulations define FoodShare household composition as follows:

General household definition. (a) A household is composed of one of the following individuals or groups of individuals, unless otherwise specified in paragraph (b) of this section:

1. An individual living alone;
2. An individual living with others, but customarily purchasing food and preparing meals for home consumption separate and apart from others; or
3. A group of individuals who live together and customarily purchase food and prepare meals together for home consumption.

7 C.F.R. §273.1(a) See in accord, FSH, §§3.3.1.1; 3.3.1.2 and 3.3.1.3.

The following individuals must be included in the same food unit, even if they do not purchase and prepare meals together:

Spouses and spouses,

Biological (unless no longer a parent because of adoption), adoptive, or step-parents and their children under the age of 22, and

Adults and minor children under the age of 18 years over whom they are exercising parental control.

7 C.F.R. §273.1(b)(1); See also FSH §3.3.1.3.

“All adult or emancipated minor food unit members at the time of the overpayment occurred are liable for repayment of any overissued FoodShare benefits. If a liable individual moves to another household, the claim follows him/her to the new household...The following are responsible for paying a claim...Each person who was an adult member of the household when the overpayment or trafficking occurred....”FSH §7.3.1.2; see also 7 CFR §273.11(a)(4)(i)

Based upon the foregoing regulations and policy, the Petitioner is liable for the underlying Foodshare overpayment, because she was an adult member of the food unit, which also included her husband and his parents.

With regard to the underlying overpayment, the Petitioner’s appeal is untimely.

The Federal Regulations state the following with regard to appeal deadlines:

- 1. A household shall be allowed to request a hearing on any action by the State agency or loss of benefits which occurred in the prior 90 days.

A State / agency action includes a refusal to restore benefits lost more than 90-days, but less than 1 year prior to the recipient’s request to restore the benefits.

7 CFR 273.15(g)

Petitioner’s March 2, 2015, appeal was filed well beyond 90-days from the date of the April 2, 2013 overpayment notice. As such, there is no jurisdiction to consider the merits of her appeal of the underlying overpayment. Petitioner argued that she did not receive the overpayment notices, but the respondent’s electronic case comments establish that petitioner called the respondent several times regarding the overpayment. See, Exhibit 2-1.

With regard to the State Tax Intercept, petitioner’s appeal is also untimely. A party has 30-days from the date of the letter/notice of tax intercept to file an appeal. Wis. Stat., §49.85(3)(a)2; FSH §7.3.2.11 In this case, the date of the tax intercept notice was February 14, 2014. As such, Petitioner needed to file her appeal by March 16, 2014. Petitioner did not file his appeal until almost a year past that date. As such, her appeal is untimely and there is no jurisdiction to hear the merits of her appeal of the state tax intercept.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

- 1. Petitioner is jointly and severally liable for any FoodShare overpayment to her household/food unit.
- 2. Petitioner’s appeal of the underlying FoodShare overpayment is untimely.
- 3. Petitioner’s appeal of the State Tax Intercept is untimely.

THEREFORE, it is ORDERED

That the petition is dismissed in its entirety.
