I am a voting resident of Wisconsin since 1968.

I strongly object to your attempts to hide government activity from citizens and journalists. Your rule change was another of many activities of this Walker administration to hide its corrupt political activities from the public eye.

Until Scott Walker became governor, Wisconsin had a long record of honest and open government by all parties. Now open, honest government is becoming a thing of the past.

I strongly urge, demand, that you restore the requirement of public records staying public. That means all public records!

Sincerely,

Roy Ozanne, MD
