Subject: Access to public records

I am commenting on the fact that the Public Records Board took action to limit the public's access to electronic communications by public employees.

To try to state that the action taken at a secretive meeting in August was to clarify existing policies for handling transitory records is absurd.

Any and all records, regardless of the nature of those records, that deal with public business should be open to the public, and to attempt to subvert the right of the public to have access to such records is abhorrent.

Please reconsider your actions and take the responsibility of keeping public records public.

Thank you.
