Subject: Against any change to existing law

Dear Sirs:

Please note that my wife and I are against any proposed changes to the open records law and the topic scheduled for discussion in your next meeting. Please note and vote to prohibit the changes . It is imperative that we have open records and accountability. Any change that would lessen the publics ability to assess our government must not be enacted. The litmus test should be if you can't tell your Grandmother what your are doing and be proud of it, then its probably wrong.
