Dear Elected Politicians,

I am beginning to wonder if you believe you are all above the law and the citizens of Wisconsin are too dense to see it. Every other day there is news about how you are constantly trying to hide what you do with disguise and subterfuge. As elected officials, it is your duty to run a clean and transparent government but all I hear about these days is middle of the night meetings and changes to the laws of public records and our access to them. As elected officials, it is your job to be open so that we the people can be sure we have elected the right people to represent us. Keep going down this path you have chosen and it will be clear how the public feels at our next election. At this point in time, the only people you are fooling are yourselves. The public is very aware of what you are trying to do, especially this voter.
