I would like the Public Records Board to rescind its action to limit access to text messages, emails, Facebook posts and other electronic communications by public employees. I want the government's business to be public, not in the shadows through such tools. When government employees conduct public business and spend our tax papers' dollars, we as citizens have an interest in seeing those communications.

For an open government to continue you need to immediately rescind the action to limit access to text messages, emails, Facebook posts and other electronic communications by public employees.

Thank you for revisiting the change that was made last summer,

Jo Pirlott
