I would like to add my voice to those who support OPEN ACCESS to public records. How could we possibly remain a true democracy if we hide information from the public? The deceit practiced by some Republican lawmakers has been thoroughly disappointing.

There is little doubt that such action will have ramifications in the next election, for people are not oblivious to the larger picture. Keeping the public from access to records is manipulative and diminishes the public's trust in some elected leaders.

Sincerely,
M. J. Wagner
