Subject: Input to Public Record Proceedings

Dear Sir,

The current process of intending to limit public access to government proceedings are very bad for clean government. My wife and I STRONGLY OPPOSE such intentions.

If you have any sense of maintaining the long standing tradition of open government that Wisconsin was noted for, you will back off from pursuing such folly.

We have watched with great dismay the activities of the current state legislative bodies and the governor to limit the input of citizens. This has reached a crisis level where we have zero trust in what is happening in Madison. The fabricated tales of why you have changed various aspects of the voting process are nothing but lies.

If you proceed further, we can promise you one simple action on our part. We will NEVER again vote for a Republican candidate at any level of government for the rest of our lives. That is how livid we are over what is happening in our former great state.
