Subject: Keep Public Records Public

Do not recommend legislation that will further restrict or destroy governmental public records. These records belong to the citizens of Wisconsin who pay for them on many levels. As a citizen and taxpayer of this state I should have unimpeded access to all communications including electronic communication such as but not limited to emails, Facebook, twitter, texts, etc. that government employees use to conduct public business. This is how the world communicates and those communications by government employees and public servants done on behalf of the citizenry should be open for view and review not only today but for historical purposes in the future.

The current administrative is trying to restrict public knowledge, the tables will turn and they will then be crying about the inability to access records they deem significant. This issue is not only about the political parties squabbles it is about how Wisconsin does its business. Elected officials are entrusted and empowered to work on behalf of their constituents in a clear and open environment. The proposed changes to the open records law are just more black marks tallied against Wisconsin.

Do you want your legacy to be that of a proponent for a culture of deception in Wisconsin?
