Subject: Limits to Electronic Records

I am writing to inform you of my concern regarding the repeated attempts to limit open records, specifically in this instance through the approach by the Public Records Board to undermine the open records law by blocking access to “transitory messages”.

Electronic records belong to the people of our state and are important to ensure that we have a voice in public affairs. These attempts to limit access to public records are an insult to the citizens of our state and those who built our country on a foundation of transparency and a system of checks and balances that hold our leaders accountable for their actions. Your primary responsibility belongs to the people of our state and is to keep public records public not to those politicians who seek to ignore their accountability to those they serve.
