How are you representing the people by being secretive? By wanting to keep the public from knowing what is being done concerning my rights and my money is an important issue to me. If we are to scrutinize individuals who receive taxpayers money, why shouldn't you? I believe our elected officials need to be tested for drugs and alcohol. Aren't you too receiving public money? I guess the people who don't believe in the constitution of the United States get elected. How can you even begin to justify your actions when our Constitution clearly states otherwise. Maybe you guys need to return to school to learn the basics of what our American government is truly suppose to be. Your integrity, morals and ethics are definitely questionable. And you want us to just follow blindly, the "trusted" government. Wrong! Ask the Native Americans if we should trust the government. Look what happened to them when they trusted the government. Only thugs, criminals and cheaters do things undercover, not out in the open. Something is definitely wrong with this picture. What do we call governments who want to suppress information? Stalin? Hitler? Yeah, I went there. That's my point.

Thank you,
