Subject: Open records

All types of records, be they facebook, twitter, text messages, or other electronic media, should be open to the public. No one in public office should be able to use excuses that their messages are transitory or temporary. Good government demands accountability and openness to the public to whom government employees serve.

Thank you for your attention to this very important matter. I hope that you will do what is in the public's best interest.

Sincerely,

James J Fenske
