Subject: Open records

I was informed today that you are allowing the general public the opportunity to comment on recent changes to open record rules.

In my opinion all records written by elected officials and employees of elected officials should be public record, no matter what format is used, if the writings are for public business. Rules should be written so that any form of current or future forms of communication should be available for public disclosure and review. No elected official should be allowed to hide behind any form of communication that they use for the public's business.

Thank you for reading and considering this citizen's views on this important matter of open and honest government.
