It is wrong to put limits on access to public records. Actions taken to limit access to text messages, emails, Facebook posts and other electronic communications made by public employees must be rescinded so that the public has full access to all communication and deliberations.

Conducting the business of Wisconsin citizens in private and "drawing the curtains" on open government is unacceptable. It makes one believe that you have something to hide.

There will certainly be consequences in this election year for those of you who try to curb access to government.
