Subject: Public means public

To the members of the Wisconsin Public Records Board:

I want to go on record that as a "hard working taxpayer" of the state of Wisconsin, I expect you to uphold -- no, promote and protect -- my access to information about the activities of elected representatives in this state. That means all records involving public business, not just those that the governor or his designees decide I should be able to see. The questionable efforts of the current administration to "clarify," redefine or "simplify" records and documents under the guise of improving government are at best not believable and at worst downright sneaky.

Do your job. Preserve and protect my right, and the right of all citizens of the state, to know what goes on in our government. Do not in any way limit access to public records.
