To whom it may concern,

Yes, in these modern times there are adjustments to be made, but not when it comes to disclosing records of any sort, made by cell phone, texting or social media. We still have to have public records as records of events for the future.

I am very disappointed with what is going on in Wisconsin, No public hearings, no disclosure of records. Has anyone ever taken a government course in the legislature or on the Public Records Board..... we are in such violations with the premises of Democracy.

Sincerely,
