Subject: Transitory electronic communications?

Dear Members of the Public Records Board:

That you would exempt electronic communications from public disclosure tells me that you want to operate in secret. This is the mindset of criminals. Are you all just a bunch of crooks? We are hoping not, but because you have redefined electronic communications as “transitory”, we truly have our doubts about your honesty and integrity.

Electronic communications have become the norm, not the exception. The citizens of Wisconsin are not being served, if such communications are taken out of public disclosure. It is time for Wisconsin Government to join the 21st Century. Governmental electronic communications must be subject to public scrutiny.
Period.

Sincerely,
Elterine Jankowski-Biggers
