Subject: Transitory records

I strongly urge you to rescind your "clarification" of how transitory records are to be dealt with. There's no way to know which records will be relevant or useful in the future. The public has a right to access ALL government records, unless their disclosure is a threat to national security, which wouldn't apply to the kind of records we're talking about here.

It seems like the current powers that be are overly concerned with non-disclosure of their activities/discussions. This is just one more way for them to hide potentially embarrassing, or possibly even criminal, activity. How would anyone know? The current legislature is slowly trying to undermine some of the basic rights this country was founded on.
