As a citizen of Wisconsin, I am once again appalled at another attempt to dissolve transparency in public politics. I cannot believe that there is even a push towards eroding transparency in 2016, fully knowing the impact corruption has on political discourse. I am fully supporting and endorsing fully rescinding the current actions to limit full disclosure and use of public commentary by public employees. This includes text messages, emails, Facebook posts, Twitter, tumbler, etc. in the full list of mediums that should remain available for investigation. There is never been a time in history where limiting access to public policies influence from outsiders has ever been positive. I'm very much expecting and looking forward to response, fully believing the public outcry will demand complete rescission of the current action.

Thank you,
