I would like to voice my opposition to the Board's attempt to block access to public information. Politicians, when they are elected, civil servants, when they are hired, and anyone conducting business with the State of Wisconsin should be aware that all correspondence is part of the public record. As a voter in Wisconsin, an open records request is one of the best ways for me to find out facts. Any attempt to obscure this process is a definite, and possibly political, affront to me and the other citizens of Wisconsin. It seems to me that shrouding public information only benefits those that would be embarrassed or implicated by the release of the information.

It is important for Wisconsin to keep an open and positive form of government. I do not want to see us turn into an Illinois clone. Please keep public records and communications open to the public.
