I think its disgusting that the Public Records Board is trying to limit the public's access to records sent electronically. The board must rescind this action to limit access to electronic communications. I'm not sure who you're trying to protect or what you're trying to hide but history will not look kindly upon you if you continue to try to subvert the public's right to know how its state employees are doing business. Do what is right and rethink this poor decision you have made.
