Sirs, I strongly object to any action to "re-define" the Public Records law. Leave it alone. Even if it were a reasonable idea ((WHICH IT IS NOT) the "timing" of such rules change can only suggest that the present Administration is attempting to suppress the public's right to know and Wisconsin's open government tradition. Given other activities of this administration, one can only wonder how stupid you think the Wisconsin Electorate is. Proceed at your peril politically...
