Subject: restore public access to "transitory" records

Dear Members of the Public Records Board:

I write to demand that you rescind prior action to limit access to text messages, emails, Facebook posts and other electronic communications by public employees. The decision to exclude of 'transitory" records has already been proven flawed, given the most recent of all too many WEDC imbroglios.

Cease efforts to curb the public's ability to know what their elected officials were doing with their money. Indeed the PBR should be proactive about new and emerging digital technologies; going forward, it would be better tho err on the side of greater public access, and adjust if that stance proves problematic.

Take responsibility to keep public records public.

Sincerely.
